Short Description

For serious microscopy work, look no further than the saxon RBT Researcher Biological Microscope.

This beast of a microscope features a trinocular head, four objectives of 4X, 10X, 40XR and 100XR, individual eyepiece focusing, double-layered mechanical stage and coaxial coarse/fine controls to make it easy to operate the stage when you're viewing your object through the eyepiece.

This microscope promises versatility and durability for use at work, school or home.

Description

The saxon RBT Researcher Biological Microscope can be used in a wide variety of settings where there is a need for the ability to magnify slides and take in closer views of objects.

Ideal for students, medical professionals and research scientists, the microscope has four different objective lens of 4x, 10x, 40x & 100x. Eyepieces provide additional 10x and 16x magnification, making it possible to use different lens and eyepiece combinations to get the perfect level of size enhancement.

You can hook the microscope up to a camera or video camera, and the microscope can be plugged into standard wall outlets.
